Boston, Mass., March 7.—The wool market continues very quiet, with selfers willling to make concessions and few transfers at any price. Operations principally are in quarter-blood mediums and fleeces, with Ohio selfing at 27 and Minnesota from 22 to 23. Operations in terpitory wools are still confined to small lots. Montana fine staple is selling at 21½. New Arizona wool is being offered at 20½ with few inquiries. There is no interest here as yet in the new clip. Local dealers regard the situation as unsettled and unsatisfactory. and about six miles of the irrigation ditch are in Colorado. The project involved is on Las Anima, river in San Juan county.
